Concept of the Course:

In India, the government has been omnipresent in the lives of its citizens, envisaged by the architects of the nation following its independence from British colonialism in 1947. With the aim of alleviating endemic poverty, free or heavily subsidized provision of basic and essential services has been the hallmark of public policy. However, there is broad consensus that the state has failed to effectively deliver public services to its citizens, particularly the poor. This is reflected starkly in the dismal performance of the country on almost all dimensions of human development.

Keeping with this, Public Service Delivery for the citizens of India has assumed immense importance with the passage of time. Now, what is Public Service Delivery? The concept of service delivery in the government sector is one of the major issues with regard to governance in India. It refers to the provision of services and benefits to citizens by government agencies and departments. This can include a wide range of services, such as healthcare, education, social services, public safety, infrastructure, and more. The goal of service delivery in the government sector is to meet the needs and expectations of citizens in an efficient and effective manner, while also upholding the principles of transparency and accountability.

Apart from public service delivery, students will also be able to understand the idea of E-governance, Green governance, Citizen's Charter and other necessary details related to the best practices in India on governance.

Objectives:

1. This course deals with concepts and different dimensions of governance highlighting the major issues in contemporary times.
2. It will facilitate understanding of the importance of the concept of and practice governance, which is essential for students across disciplines.
3. It simultaneously focuses on environment, administration, development.
